

Important:

- ✓ Avoid overheating (do not leave your pet in a parked car, keep in mind that shade moves, and try not to be out and about in the midday heat)
- ✓ Avoid draughts
- ✓ Offer plenty of water
- ✓ Keep your pet on a lead in unfamiliar places
- ✓ Avoid contact with animals you don't know (risk of disease transmission)

Help your pet
stay stress-free
in unfamiliar situations

TRAVELING
WITH CATS
AND DOGS

CHECKLIST FOR A SAFE AND RELAXING HOLIDAY

Things to think about before the trip

- Will my pet get something out of it?
- Weigh up travel time/travel stress against length of stay
- Possibility of contracting parasitic diseases (e.g. in southern countries: leishmaniasis, babesiosis, ehrlichiosis)

Have you taken care of all the formalities?

- Have you checked and met the conditions of entry?
- Are your pet's pet passport and vaccinations up to date?
- Try to find out the address and telephone number of German-/English-speaking veterinarians at your destination (check with the tourism association).

Traveling by car

- Take plenty of fresh water and a bowl with you
- Make sure your dog is secured during the drive (in a crate or with a dog seatbelt)
- Wait until you are in safe surroundings at your destination before letting your pet out of its crate

Traveling by plane

- Take non-stop flights if possible
- Choose a crate that is the right size for your pet and meets airline requirements (cabin or cargo hold)
- Get the pet used to the crate
- Line the crate with a soft, absorbent, slip-resistant pad
- Label the crate with your pet's name and your address, phone number, and travel destination; attach an address tag to your pet's collar
- Put ice cubes instead of water into the bowl; they will gradually melt
- Attach transport papers and a copy of your pet's EU pet passport to the crate

- Take any required entry documentation with you (e.g., rabies antibody test results, entry permit, etc.)
- If necessary, take pedigree papers with you for certain countries or types of dogs, such as fighting dogs

Take a first-aid kit with you

- Parasite prevention (e.g. spot on)
- Sedatives, as needed (only after consultation with your veterinarian)
- Dressings, scissors, compresses
- Disinfectants/salve
- Treatment for gastrointestinal issues (e.g., diarrhoea or vomiting) only after consultation with the veterinarian
- Tick-removal tool
- Ample medication for known medical conditions

Pack your dog's bags

- Clean travel crate (make sure your pet is used to it)
- Clean, soft bedding
- Food and water bowls
- Plenty of familiar food
- A sufficient supply of fresh water
- Lead (consider taking a spare), muzzle if needed
- Dry shampoo and hand towels
- Treats, chew bones
- Dog toys, comb, brush
- A supply of waste bags
